Allen J	Systems In Organizations	5	5	5	5	5	4.8	4.6	4.6	4.4	3.2	4.8	4
- J.P. is one of the really good professors in this program. His personality turns a 4 hour Thursday night into a really fun event. It was a great class when I really don't want it to end, but I am taking a course with him next semester and very much looking forward to it. I would recommend J.P. to anyone who wants to be entertained while learning an absolute ton of information! - J.P is an excellent professor. Very enthusiastic about a subject that is completely dry. His enthusiasm and in- class exercises are so infusing that even if you know nothing about the subject of IS you find yourself concentrating and wanting to learn more about something you had absolutely no interest in. He has qualities that very few professors at USF posses: charisma, talent, organization and technical knowledge. Furthermore, throughout the semester he applies tangible measurements of performance to his student's performance. Additionally, mid-semester he seeks students' feedback and provides feedback to students. This practice is an indication of his commitment to helping students achieve the course deliverables. For the most part students can greatly increase and improve their performance in a particular course, if they have constructive feedback mid way in the semester. This type of feedback allows them to make modifications to their studies. More than half of the battle in doing well in any class is knowing in advance what you are doing wrong. To put in IS terms: J.P Allen truly exemplifies the definition of a value added activity to the clients of USF; the students. - (cont) The only negative aspect I found about the class was the course work. That is, there are too many mini-projects that rely on group work. If you are lucky to have excellent group members, that is great. However, if you are stuck with social loafers you end up doing 3x the amount of work. I suppose, this is a common problem among all group work, but when you have 4 total projects in a semester, they account for a great percentage of your grade and when you have members that are absent or simply do not care, then your individual performance suffers for reasons that are beyond your control. In IS terms we need to ask; what is the value added activity in forcing people to work with social loafers on four projects? Isn't one project enough? If there is a value added activity then senior management at the MBA program needs to take a closer look at the student applicant pool to ensure that the MBA program is not sacrificing student quality for quantity. -JP has tremendous energy and is a very dedicated professor. He expects a lot out of his students and rewards those who meet his expectations.

- Did not feel the course provided much value for real world business. The amount of work for the course far exceeded others.
- Instructor extremely helpful in facilitating learning and amount of material to cover. Quite a bit of material to cover in time frame.

Alter S	Systems In Organizations	1.889	3.56	2.78	2.333	2	2	4.33	2.44	2.33	2.67	2.333	4.44
-Prof. Alter conducts a very rigid classroom. He does not allow for student's comment nor reaction to the subject matter. The class began with an unnecessarily long description of how the Prof. would filter his emails. This is unnecessary for an MBA course. More importantly, Prof. Alter assigns daily journal entries, which he says never reads completely, but skims to see if the student has grasp the main idea. Instead of valuing the student's time and assigning work that would truly be read and evaluated, he insisted that everyone finish the journal. The exam, which took two hours to complete, was distributed to the class with 1.5 hr. left on the clock. The class had to stay until 10:30 pm to finish it. Again, he has little regard for student's time. Word of advice, do not take this course. - I felt Professor Alter was a horrible instructor and did not help my learning experience. -Do not take this professor. The classes act as sleeping pills or perhaps torture techniques. Weekly assignments involve hours of monotonous reading and then writing about said monotony. ZERO feedback on all homeworks until your final grade. So if you are an insomniac, have a passion for torture, fancy starting a caffeine addiction, and/or don't want to know your progress until it's too late, stay away from this one. -Professor Alter provides no feedback on weekly assignments, which account for more than a third of the grade, making it hard to know what his expectations are and how you're doing in the class. In addition, the group project assigned later in the semester takes an enormous amount of time, and the last-minute additions to the assignment were even more of a burden. Often, his instructions about assignments are unclear. However, I felt I learned a lot in his class, and I appreciated Professor Alter's efforts to engage students and encourage discussion. I'm more interested in systems after taking his class, which as a non-technical person, I never thought I'd say. -Professor Alter has one system for analyzing work practices and he drives it into your brain. He spends very little time on anything other than his system, neglecting many other schools of thought. The class felt too much like a research lab for his next book and the amount of material that will be useful to me in the 'real world' was limited. If I work in any industry other than technology I will be woefully ill-prepared, the manufacturing sector was completely untouched. Overall this was not a good experience and at $950 a unit that is unacceptable.
Bell A	Communication Strategy	3.857	4.57	4.29	4	3.571	3.71	1.86	3.57	4	3.29	3.429	3.29
-Really mixed feelings about this one. On the one hand, the course as it is currently designed is a waste of time. However, Bell can be a very effective and engaging teacher when he gets going. With a different curriculum he could be really great. He needs to be better about getting papers back in a timely manner though. -The classes are ok and hte writings aren't too tough but it seems like they are geared toward students with English as a second language, no offense. A little slow at times. Professor Bell is difficult to get a hold of outside of class.
Belser S	Small Bus Ventures	5	5	5	5	5	5	4	4	5	4	5	4
- Scott is one of the best instructor I have in the program. I would say top 3 or top 2. He is knowledgeable, experienced, and has very good sense of humor made the class much more interesting. Guest speakers gave a very good perspective to the course.
Bennett R	Marketing Strategy	4.333	5	4.67	4.667	4.667	4.67	5	5	4.67	4	4.333	2.67
-This course is a great learning experience and applies to many 'real-world' examples. It is very intense and very demanding. Looking back on the many many hours spent, the challenge and experience was worth it, but I'm glad the semester is over. -Great class, but a lot of quantitative analysis. I enjoy the simulation so much.

Bi K	Managerial Finance	3.5	5	3.5	3	5	3.5	3	3.5	3	3	2.5	2.5
-Professor Bi is one of the kindest people I have ever met. She is really concerned about students' learning. However, this class is better for people who are NOT 'majoring' in Finance. She is sometimes difficult to understand, however, if you just want a general knowledge of finance, this class works. She spends more time on the most important aspects, and is very accessible outside of class.
Blakley D	Economics	4.917	4.92	4.42	4.833	4.917	4.92	4.58	4.75	4.67	3.58	4.583	3.92
-Great professor. Makes jokes that are pretty funny too. Very personable. Course is hard in the beginning but gets a whole lot easier once you get a solid foundation. -Prof. Blakley is an amazing teacher. He truly cares about his students and values their time. He is willing to go over and over a topic, without hesitation. He truly one of the best assets USF has. If you are looking to take Econ, take it from Blakley, you will never forget the material. Beware that his teaching style is very relaxed. If you don't prefer this teaching style, don't take Blakley. But then again, you may regret it!! -This course would have been much different (and dry) if not for Dan's sense of humor. He made a subject that could very much have been boring rather interesting because he makes the class laugh almost the whole time we're together. His lectures are somewhat difficult to follow at (many) times, but if you stick with it and put the time into it, it'll make sense (may not be until the 1st midterm). I found that I had to read some of the textbook chapters several times because they are dense with material. Overall, I'd choose this professor again. -Blakely makes this class enjoyable. I don't have a business or economics background, and coming into this subject matter was quite scary. Although the first few weeks seem scattered and fast, I did pretty well on the midterms, case studies and homework (since I paired with other students in study sessions). I highly recommend his class because it was one of the most entertaining & engaging classes I had all semester. Blakely knows his stuff...just be patient, read, study with others, and ask lots of questions. Go to all review sessions with the TA will help you 100% for the exams. -Dan was the man! It was incredible how technical an understanding of global economics we attained in such a short amount of time. The information was tough to get ahold of but as the semester went on Dan helped us make sense of it all. The key was the way that he tied the theory to current events. As a result of this class you will be able to have an intelligent conversation with someone else about global economic conditions. I highly recommend both this course and this instructor. You will be challenged and will learn a lot. -This is by far the best course I've taken since I joined the MBA program. Prof. Blakely's unorthodox teaching style makes this course very interesting. It requires a lot of work which he makes seem like fun. Although I had no prior econ background, I learnt a great deal in the course that is applicable to the real world.

-Take Finance Before you take this course!!!! -Excellent course and good assignments. -Basically this class requires you to come up with a business and develop a business plan for it. Besides the project there is a midterm that is basically given to you before hand to study then you have to rework the problems in class the day of the test. It was a good class, and learning to write a business plan is always helpful. -Ideal class for entrepreneurs, although business plans that need VC funding are more suitable. Co-taught by an actual VC which was really useful for answering questions and giving inside knowledge about the industry.

-Professor Doyle is one of the nicest and most knowledgeable professors on campus. He really knows his material and presents it effectively. -If your emphasis is finance you must take this class. The class really makes the 617 course make sense! Doyle does a really good job of helping you understand corporate finance.

Doyle B	Managerial Finance	4.5	4.8	4.4	4.1	4	4.6	4.6	4.4	4.2	3.6	4.2	3.8
-Doyle is a terrific teacher who cares about his students. I learned a lot in this class and am interested in taking more finance courses as electives. The course-load is heavier than the other classes I have taken at USF so, if you can, take fewer courses when taking this one. -Great class. Prof Doyle seems to be on cruise control in his teaching style, but it's effective. Recommend Doyle. -Profess. Doyle is great. He helps his students understand Finance and its important to real business situations. The best part of the class is that the professor doesn't give you the answer the leads you down the right path so you figure it out on your own. This class should be a year long because too much information is covered in a short period of time. -Students are expected to know the subject in great detail and up to date with the finance news. -Doyle is an excellent professor. I would highly recommend taking him for Finance. Be prepared to spend a lot of time on the cases. -Doyle is great but he teaches more theory than real world. The cases were a bit tough and required group work outside of class. He moved fairly quickly through the material this semester but I'm sure he'd scale it back if a majority of the class was overwhelmed. He helps you out with studying for the midterm and final which is great because you can narrow down your studying. Overall, Doyle is a good professor.
Durham J	Advert and Promotional Strategy	5	4.75	5	5	4.75	4.75	3.5	4.25	4.25	3.5	5	2.5
-Durham is great. Possibly the best professor in the program. He knows his game and helps his students understand the ad industry from an insider's perspective and not whats in the book. He also helps his students network and involves them in his outside work! -Very enjoyable class. Far more creative than any other classes i've taken. Good insight into world of advertising. Lots of fun -Prof. Durham is one of the best in the field of Advertising, Sales and Marketing -Durham is a great Professor. He knows a lot about advertising and brings a lot of the real world into his teachings; it's not all textbook. He really cares about his students and is passionate about advertising and teaching. I strongly recommend that marketing students take his classes! It's well worth it!

-Professor Efendioglu really makes this course interesting, and I found him to be both knowledgeable and helpful in and out of the classroom. -A lot of work, but fairly informative. Alev's strategy simulation game is a challenge and does take lots of time outside class, but it also can be enjoyable particularly if you have a good group. Choose your team members wisely as you have to work together very closely. Lectures are heavy on theoretical concepts. He does use lots of industry examples, but also tends to ask annoying and pointless 'guess what I'm thinking about' type questions which tend to stump the class.

Gillan S	Managerial Accounting	3.375	4.13	3.25	3	4	3.13	4.38	2.75	3	2.63	2.75	5
-Steve Gillan is very helpful outside of class. There is really too much information to teach in this TWO unit class, so he sort of flew threw the information with boring powerpoint slides, and then assigned more homework than ANY 4 unit class. However, after getting mid-semester evaluations, he did do more hands-on problem work during class, where he could actually help the students. It was more helpful than zipping through ppt slides. He is kind, and does care about student learning. -The instructor started out on a slow note, but really improved throughout the semester. I would recommend Prof Gillan for this class. -More in class case studies -You get a lot of bang for your buck. This course has an incredible amount of homework and the subject matter is hard. The instructor was new but he was well prepared and knew the material well. I recommend you take Managerial Accounting with Steve. He is very personable and will help you through it. -Tons of work for a 2-unit class. Professor Gillan taught the class in the same manner as Louie. Gillan is very nice, thorough, and no nonsense. Class is fair, but requires hours of work outside of class. -I can feel the Professor was trying his best but still, the class is not that interesting and students do not understand many concepts. I would say, the redesign of this course is needed and the instructor's ability to teach is also important to attract students passion for this course. Need much improvement. -Gillian is a nice guy and has lots of experience, including international experience - in fact I wish he would have talked about his overseas work. The class has a ridiculous amount of work for 2 units, particularly the homework. I basically stopped doing them after the first few weeks. Also this class overlaps content with Managerial Finance, Systems, and Data Analysis. I've taken those three, so those sections were time wasters for me, but could be a good introduction if you haven't. This was Steve's first semester teaching and he really improved the class towards the end by incorporating mini-case study examples into lectures.

-Prof. Goldgehn likes a lot of student discussion. Although this course was very interesting, there were days where all the class did was watch videos and discuss. I feel that time should be wisely spent on real world issues. However, don't be mislead. This class is amazing!!! You definitely need these skills to manage in the real world. -Highly recommended professor. It's not all about the books. Rather discoveries and discussions were key essentials to the learnings. Expect to read a lot, and write a lot. The level of effort is on par with what is expected out of an MBA program. -Leslie is one of the really good professors in this program. She cares very much for each of her students and is interested in the success of her students. I whole heartedly recommend anyone take her for this or any of her courses. -Although there were a lot of paper to write, I learned a lot from this class. And Professor Goldgehn's teaching style is very interactive. -Great professor, very positive and knowledgable but a lot of reading and busy work outside of class. The simulation is not very realistic. -Leslie is a very nice lady but this course is not useful. I would prefer to see more focus on organizational dynamics and case studies of how to work with and help challenged companies, not endless videos of leaders and discussions of what defines good leadership. The workload starts out light but gets quite heavy in April/May. -I love Leslie's classes. I took her marketign class and Leadership. I really enjoyed it -Leslie demonstrates a genuine interest in assisting her students and will work with you towards the goals you set at the beginning of the course. Note though that you WILL work. There is a large amount of reading (four texts and a reader) and the group work, while rewarding, can take a lot of time. Note about the reader for sale through the bookstore: When you take this course, contact Leslie in advance regarding the availability of the reader, I spent over $50 over for a bound cover of low-quality photocopies. This has no bearing on the class or the professor it is just a waste of money. -Prof. Goldgehn assigns a lot of readings and work, but not everything is discussed or applied in class. She shows several videos throughout the class and requires 'dialogue' from her students regarding the subject matter. Granted there is no midterm or final, the writing assignments are long in addition to outside class time dedicated to the simulation and volunteer project. -This was one of those course that you get out of it what you put into it. There was lot of work to be done but if you took some of the self evaluations and group project seriously you could become a better manager/leader down the road. The course relies upon dialogue and teamwork in order to make its point. I think that the simulation was also a helpful tool. This class was a good experience for me though it could have been boiled down to a two unit course perhaps. -Prof. Goldgehn certainly cares about her students and the subject of leadership. The course is writing-intensive and very much back end heavy (i.e. latter half of the semester). Focuses on 'soft' skills.
Goldgehn L	Marketing Management	4.4	4.2	3.8	4.2	4.4	3.8	3.6	3	3.8	3.2	3	2.8
-The best part about Leslie's class is the project, in which we partner with a local non-profit organization. This is an incredible opportunity to learn in a hands-on way, as well as to make a difference by helping a non-profit in need. It's an extremely creative way to learn and exemplifies the values of our Jesuit school (especially the service element component). Wish more of the MBA classes applied active learning methods, instead of using old case studies.

-It is helpful course for my future business life. -Grossman is great. Very enthusiastic and supportive. He makes a some what un-intesting subject fun and vital. Although sometimes the course gets too rough (too much work due at once) I recommend taking Grossman if you want to get the most for your buck! -Excel can do things you never knew it could, You learn al lot. Unfortunately, the coursework outside of class is hugely excessive. -Professor Grossman assigns A LOT of readings, homework, and cases. This class is a huge time commitment. -Professor Grossman is fun and teaches you a lot of things that can be directly applied in workplace. The course is tough but he'll make sure you get it and come away with a lot of knowledge on the subject. -Challenging course, but worth the work. Lot's of work outside of class. Teacher expects a lot of students. Grossman knows his stuff - and very organized. Much of the course is set up around group work - so choose a group accordingly.

-Great professor and great class. I would encourage other students to take this class. -Oren Harari is a genius and I highly recommend his class. He's tough but the outcome is well worth the work. -This course is HOT!!! definitely, it's the best class I've ever taken at USF MBA. -Harari is the best professor I ever had at USF. He has hisown way teaching us how to think outside the box..Good especially for people who want to work in consulting. Workload is not a deal. Every effort, time and money spent will be worthwhile in your future career. You might be grilled during the presentation once in a while but that helps you improve. So HIGHLY RECOMMEND this course...seriously

-Professor Huxley is one of the very best this program has to offer. He knows the subject matter well and brings humor and real world experience to his lectures and examples. I recommend this course to anyone really wanting to learn the subject matter and willing to put in effort in their own education. Three cheers for Huxley! -Professor Huxley is a great professor. He showed that he cared about students' learning and wanted to help whenever possible. -I'm a big fan of Huxley. He expects you to work for your grade, but he is also generous with his time and will be very helpful if you need it. Expect to do a fair amount of work for this course. There will be homework problems due and a quiz every week. However, if you do the work regularly and pay attention in class it is not that hard to do well. -Professor Huxley made the topic interesting & gave his best effort to conveying the subject in an understandable fashion. I definitely enjoyed his class.

-Great professor. Very knowledge able and approachable. He genuinely cares or at least seems like it. The course is new and was a bit hard to follow. If the course is offered again it will probably be better. Definitely a lot of work simialar to any other Huxley class but you'll learn a lot. -I originally signed up for this class because the course description made the class sound very interesting...and I thought I would learn more about becoming a CFP. Instead, the course consisted of 11 weeks of retirement homework/reading/case studies/quizzes and in the final two weeks we went over some information like taxes/insurance/benefits. I found the class to be extremely boring and was more about data analysis then anything else. If I had known this in the beginning I would never have taken this class. Overall, I did not learn a thing that will help me in the real world. -There is a lot of reading with this course but every bit of it is applicable to the real world. This class is also team taught and while Huxley is great, Tarrazo has a tendency to talk too much in theory and therefore he is hard to follow. -Huxley is a great professor. I highly recommend to take his courses. This is a very useful course but not necessary to the international students -Prof. Huxley is a great professor but he should not co-teach this class with Tarrazo. Huxley should get somebody else. Tarrazo is terrible. He is all over the place with his lectures...he goes on and on, jumping from one topic to the next without making a point.

-Professor Li's case assignments were interesting and helped facilitate the lectures. Student participation is emphasized to increase understanding of the subject matter. Good course overall. -This course is basically case studies each week with no homework due. Your grade is based on one group project and essay exam and a final article write-up due at the end of the semester. It was a good class, the only real assignment was the group project, that took some time. -This class is way too general for students who have any experience with marketing. Nothing was covered in much depth over the course of the semester. In addition, Professor Li seems to lack updated, real-world experience, so he isn't much of a resource for students who currently work in the marketing field. However, he genuinely cares about his students and their learning, and enourages discussion and class participation from all students.

-Good course, great professor, useless textbook. This course requires in DEPTH understanding of managerial and financial accounting, and financial statements. If your undergrad degree is not in finance - you are lost. Course is condensed, lots of reading, homework, quizzes on line. 15 pages midterm. Team projects were very interesting. For the final we will get copy of annual report of some company and will have to analyze all statements, MD&A and footnotes. -I don't like the textbook. Also, not sure if this course is suitable for MBA students who do not necessarily have strong accounting background. Professor is nice but probably should think another way to design this course.

-Great professor and great class. I would encourage other students to take this class. -This class was amazing. Professor MacPherson is great. She has a very interactive way of teaching the material. The readings are fabulous. They definitely apply to real world as they are all based on real world successes. I HIGHLY recommend this course. -Excellent course, really recommend to everyone, especially students with no work experience. -Great class! The only class that didnt feel like a class. It just felt like a get-together -fabulous class!!! -This Professor is one of the best in the School of Business

-This course is all about teamwork and learning the difference between management and leadership. You work very closely with a self-selected team throughout the semester to perform a community service project. There are no exams in this course, just a few short write-ups as well as a final 20 page group paper & presentation due as a final. This is a good course & good professor. Highly recommend. -Awesome professor!! She brought a great deal of professionalism to the class and value added learning pieces which all students can use in the real business world. She devoted her time to answering each student's questions with great detail and had a true interest in her students' understanding of the subject matter. All lectures were geared towards a real business environment and that type of teaching cannot be substituted with any high level academic text book and/or material. It would be of great value to all students in the MBA program if the program and its directors actively sought to hire more professors like Professor MacPherson -Professor MacPherson really cares about students and their whole process of learning and development in her class. I found her exercises to be quite interesting, challenging and interactive. It's a great environment to practice your leadership skills or even mess them up because it is a safe environment to do the wrong thing. She never directly blames a student for wrong doing, but rather offer suggestions and a third person perspective on the situation as a whole. Her experience in professional, real-world work has also brought in significant insight on topics discussed in class. It is a truly safe, fun and enjoyable environment for fostering learning. I truly enjoyed this class & look forward to Advanced Leadership.

Mefford R	Systems In Organizations	3.667	4	3	3	3.333	4	2	3.33	3.33	3.33	3.333	3
-Mefford is generous with his grading. The class very low stress but still educational. -Mefford's lectures are really dry because he loves to use overhead slides. Furthermore, he speeds through them and reads off most of it, so that doesn't help me absorb it any. What's good is that he gives out copies of the slides for students to take home. Midterms are fair, and he gives you a full page for a cheat sheet. The field trip to NUMMI is awesome. Although a dry lecture, Mefford is overall a cool teacher. This class is a breeze...just make sure you have a good group for your consulting project & you got the formula for an A. -This class was very theoretical. Lecture style course. Not a high-pressure environment. Workload was average.

-If you are interested in global affairs, macro-economic trends, etc, this class is great, even though its on the rigorous side. Murray knows a ton about international business and his lectures are quite interesting. Definitely recommended.

Naranjo P	Special Topics In Mktg	2	3	2	1.5	3	2	2	1.5	2.5	3	3	2.5
-This class essentially had nothing to do with business and everything to do with Latin American history. There was no discussion about types of business, industries, opportunities, how to set up a business, financial differences, or anything. It was all about history and that you shouldn't give businessmen's wives certain colored flowers. A complete waste of $3000.

Neilson D	Financial Accounting	2.571	4.29	2.71	3.143	2.714	3.14	4.71	3.43	3	4	2.143	3.43
-Although Prof. Neilson has a sense of humor, it is not very helpful When he is teaching. The exams are extremely long for The amount of time allotted. Lectures always start and finish really late, which makes it difficult to fully understand material. also, final project was assigned two weeks before it was due (The day of The final) Prof. Neilson has poor time management skills, which hurts The class tremendously. -This professor moves through material at approx the speed of light, so be ready. There are 3 quizzes a midterm, and a final. As well as a project and homeworks to turn in everyweek. This class was a challenge and a lot of work for only be 2 credits. There must be an easier way. -My worst professor yet! He doesn't 'teach' and neither does the text. Amazingly you can fail tests and still end up with a 'B'. -There is no way that this class should only be worth 2 units! Professor Neilson would try to teach us entire chapters of the book in 30 minutes. The amount of material crammed into our 2 hours a week was absurd. The other problem with this course in my eyes was the reliance on journal entries. If I was training to be a bookeeper this course would have been useful, but as someone hoping to be a manager I dont feel that I needed the depth of detail that was included in this class. There will never be a time in my professional life where I can not at least look up the title of the journals before making an entry, memorizing them was a bit much. I give professor Neilson credit for trying to inject humor into the subject of accounting, it helped ease the suffering. -As seems to be the case with all acctg classes, this is a lot of work for 2 units. Teacher knows his stuff but seems to rush through material at times. Light mood in classroom - entertaing professor. Lots of work required outside of class to do well.
Nguyen L	Strategic Management	2.667	3	2.5	2.833	4.167	3.33	3.5	2.67	3.17	3.67	3.5	3
-Prof Nguyen cares about the class' learning and responds well to class feedback. However, a lot of the coursework is not really applicable to the real world and it would be much better if the course was focused on cases and she shared more of her personal experience. -I don't feel I have learned anything from her course. She did not give any lectures, instead she asked students to take the lead. We have paid high tuition for learning not just doing the homeworks. -Thanks Nicole, you are awesome. -Instructor had poor working knowledge of subject matter -I really looked forward taking strategic management, but this class was disappointing. I like professor Nguyen as a person, but the way this course was designed was not effective. First of all, the professor started the course by saying "I will not teach you anything, you will teach each other". I do not think this is the right approach, since I'm taking the class to learn from a specialist on the subject. In addition, the requirement of individual presentations that are not even related to strategic management is unnecessary. We should have spent more time on analyzing real strategic business issues instead.
Puntillo R	Financial Inst. and Mkts	4	4.67	4	4	4.667	4	2.33	3.67	3.67	3.33	3.667	2
-Practical, real world information. Prof Puntillo is very helpful during office hours and very knowledgeable about the topic. -This course was interesting. It consists of talking about topics and then taking a weekly (although not always) quiz on the subject matter. If you are in class you will do fine on the quizzes. There is also a 10 min presentation on any topic of finance (your choice) which is not too hard, you are allowed not notes, but four PP slides. There is also a final which is really simply another quiz.

-Great class! The guest speakers really help you get a real life understanding of the industry beyond the cookie cutter examples of textbooks. I would also recommend this class for entrepreneurs that hope to get VC funding some day.
Roehl C	Financial Accounting	3.833	4.17	3.17	3.333	4.5	4	2.17	3.33	4	4.17	3.5	3
-It could have been better. But I had a hard time grasping the significant differences with Accounting Fundamentals. If you take Accounting Fundamentals, this class should be a breeze. Else, the text could have been better. I think my peers in class had some challenges with the teaching style of the professor. -Roehl obviously knows accounting well and has a lot of enthusiasm for the subject (which is refreshing considering the dry nature of the subject matter). She is a nice person and definitely wants her students to succeed. However, her lectures are disorganized and she can get bogged down in details or sidetracked off topic entirely. She will often leave important parts of the lecture to the last 10 minutes and then try to rush through key issues.

Tay S	Investment Management	3.5	5	3	3	4.5	4	4.5	4	4.5	4.5	3	4
-Tay needs to slow down. He keeps on trying to cram everything in. That wont make us know more than before we took the class.
Thrift J	Financial Accounting	3.667	5	4.33	4.333	4.667	4.33	4	4	4.33	3.33	4	3.33
-This is a useful course, but unfortunately for the subject itself is difficult. Prof. Thrift kept this as a true 2-unit workload. We had a (take home) mid term and final along with 2 small group projects. Students are to work on the exams individually. I feel I did not learn as much in this course as I could have because the take-home exams did not encourage me to try to memorize chapter contents. If you really want to learn accounting, this may not be the best choice for you. However, Prof. Thrift is well prepared and provides a good lecture on each chapter and cares about his student's learning. -He grades on a reverse curve...very annoying because his tests are easy and everyone gets good grades until he uses the reverse curve to hurt you
Weiner D	Accounting Fundamentals	2.25	4.25	2.25	2.25	2.75	3.25	3	2.75	2.25	2.5	2	3.75
-Prof. Weiner is not a good communicator at all - take this class if you want to be saved from homework. but exams are tough and require lots of exam-study. -The professor is very knowledgeable on the subject and cares about the students learning but moves too quickly at times. Test questions are much harder than the homework or class problems.
